
African Youth Charter (2006/2009)

Adopted in Banjul, The Gambia on 2 July 2006. The Charter entered into force on 8 August 2009.

Preamble

Guided by the Constitutive Act of the African Union, the states parties to the present 'African Youth Charter',

Guided by the vision, hopes and aspirations of the African Union, inclusive of Africa's integration, the inherent dignity and inalienable rights afforded to all members of the human family as set out in the United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights (1948), the International Covenant of Civil and Political Rights (1976) and the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights (1976), and articulated for the African peoples through the African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights (1986);

Recalling the resolution of the Heads of State and government during the 1999 Algiers Summit for the development of the Pan-African Charter;

Fully attached to the virtues and values of African historical tradition and civilization which form the foundation for our concept of people's rights;

Recalling the historic injustices imposed on Africa such as slavery, colonisation, depletion of natural resources and taking into account the firm will of African peoples for self-determination and the economic integration of Africa;

Convinced that Africa's greatest resource is its youthful population and that through their active and full participation, Africans can surmount the difficulties that lie ahead;

Bearing in mind the international Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women (1979) and the Protocol to the African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights relating to the Rights of Women in Africa (2003) and the progress achieved in eliminating gender discrimination, but ever cognisant of the obstacles that still prevent girls and women from fully participating in African society;

Reaffirming the need to take appropriate measures to promote and protect the rights and welfare of children as outlined in the Convention of the Rights of the Child (1989) and through the African Charter on the Rights and Welfare of the Child (1999),

Acknowledging the commitments already made towards the United Nations Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) and inviting the partners to reaffirm their support to advance the well-being of youth;

Recognising the efforts made by states parties and civil societies to address the economic, social, educational, cultural and spiritual needs of youth;

Noting with concern the situation of African youth, many of whom are marginalised from mainstream society through inequalities in income, wealth and power, unemployment and underemployment, infected and affected by the HIV/AIDS pandemic, living in situations of poverty and hunger, experiencing illiteracy and poor quality educational systems, restricted access to health services and to information, exposure to violence including gender violence, engaging in armed conflicts and experiencing various forms of discrimination;

Recalling the United Nations World Programme of Action for Youth to the Year 2000 and beyond and the ten priority areas identified for youth (education, employment, hunger and poverty, health, environment, drug abuse, juvenile delinquency, leisure-time activities, girls and young women and youth participating in decision-making), and the five additional areas (HIV/AIDS, ICT, intergenerational dialogue, [mixed impact of globalisation and active involvement in armed conflict]) adopted at the 2005 UN General assembly;

Recognising that youth are partners, assets and a prerequisite for sustainable development and for the peace and prosperity of Africa with a unique contribution to make to the present and to future development;

Considering the role that youth have played in the process of decolonisation, the struggle against apartheid and more recently in its efforts to encourage the development and to promote the democratic processes on the African continent;

Reaffirming that the continuous cultural development of Africa rests with its youth and therefore requires their active and enlightened participation as espoused in the Cultural Charter for Africa;

Guided by the New Partnership for Africa's Development Strategic Framework for Youth Programme of 2004 that is working towards youth empowerment and development;

Acknowledging the increasing calls and the enthusiasm of youth to actively participate at local, national, regional and international levels to determine their own development and the advancement of society at large;

Acknowledging also the call in Bamako (2005) by the youth organisations across Africa to empower youth by building their capacity, leadership, responsibilities and provide access to information such that they can take up their rightful place as active agents in decision-making and governance;

Taking into consideration the inter-relatedness of the challenges facing youth and the need for cross-sectoral policies and programmes that attend to the needs of youth in a holistic manner;
Considering that the promotion and protection of the rights of youth also implies the performance of duties by youth as by all other actors in society;
Taking into consideration the needs and aspirations of young displaced persons, refugees and youth with special needs;

HAVE AGREED as follows:

- (h) Ensure, where applicable, that girls and young women who become pregnant or married before completing their education shall have the opportunity to continue their education;
 - (i) Allocate resources to upgrade the quality of education delivered and ensure that it is relevant to the needs of contemporary society and engenders critical thinking rather than rote learning;
 - (j) Adopt pedagogy that incorporates the benefits of and trains young people in the use of modern information and communication technology such that youth are better prepared for the world of work;
 - (k) Encourage youth participation in community work as part of education to build a sense of civic duty;
 - (l) Introduce scholarship and bursary programmes to encourage entry into post-primary school education and into higher education outstanding youth from disadvantaged communities, especially young girls;
 - (m) Establish and encourage participation of all young men and young women in sport, cultural and recreational activities as part of holistic development;
 - (n) Promote culturally appropriate, age specific sexuality and responsible parenthood education;
 - (o) Promote the equivalence of degrees between African educational institutions to enable the youth to study and work in state parties;
 - (p) Adopt preferential recruitment policies for African youth with specialised skills amongst states parties.
5. Youth are determined to transform the continent in the fields of science and technology. Therefore they are committed to:
- (a) Promoting and using science and technology in Africa;
 - (b) Conducting research towards science and technology.
6. State parties should encourage youth to conduct research. In this regard, an African discoveries day should be established along with mechanism of awarding prizes at the continental level.
7. Enterprises that are located in Africa should establish partnerships with training institutions to contribute to technology transfer for the benefit of African students and researchers.

Article 14: Poverty eradication and socio-economic integration of youth

1. States parties shall: Recognise the right of young people to a standard of living adequate for their holistic development.
2. Recognise the right of young people to be free from hunger and shall take individual or collective measures to:
 - (a) Enhance the attractiveness of rural areas to young people by improving access to services and facilities such as educational and cultural services;
 - (b) Train young people to take up agricultural, mineral, commercial and industrial production using contemporary systems and promote the benefits of modern information and communication technology to gain access to existing and new markets;
 - (c) Provide grants of land to youth and youth organisations for socioeconomic development purposes;
 - (d) Facilitate access to credit to promote youth participation in agricultural and other sustainable livelihood projects;
 - (e) Facilitate the participation of young people in the design, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of national development plans, policies and poverty reduction strategies.
3. Recognise the right of every young person to benefit from social security, including social insurance. In this regard, states parties shall take the necessary measures to achieve the full realisation of these rights in accordance with their national law especially when the security of food tenure, clothing, housing and other basic needs are compromised.

Article 15: Sustainable livelihoods and youth employment

1. Every young person shall have the right to gainful employment.
2. Every young person shall have the right to be protected from economic exploitation and from performing work that is likely to be hazardous to or interfere with the young person's education, or to be harmful to the young person's health or holistic development.
3. States parties shall address and ensure the availability of accurate data on youth employment, unemployment and underemployment so as to facilitate the prioritisation of the issue in national development programmes complemented by clear programmes to address unemployment;
4. States parties shall take all appropriate measures with a view to achieving full realisation of this right to gainful employment and shall in particular:
 - (a) Ensure equal access to employment and equal pay for equal work or equal value of work and offer protection against discrimination regardless of ethnicity, race, gender, disability, religion, political, social, cultural or economic background;
 - (b) Develop macroeconomic policies that focus on job creation particularly for youth and for young women;
 - (c) Develop measures to regulate the informal economy to prevent unfair labour practices where the majority of youth work;
 - (d) Foster greater linkages between the labour market and the education and training system to ensure that curricula are aligned to the needs of the labour market and that youth are being trained in fields where employment opportunities are available or are growing;
 - (e) Implement appropriately-timed career guidance for youth as part of the schooling and post-schooling education system;
 - (f) Promote youth entrepreneurship by including entrepreneurship training in the school curricula, providing access to credit, business development skills training, mentorship opportunities and better information on market opportunities;

1. Every young person accused or found guilty of having infringed the penal law shall have the right to be treated with humanity and with respect for the inherent dignity of the human person.
2. States parties shall in particular:
 - (a) Ensure that youth who are detained or imprisoned or in rehabilitation centres are not subjected to torture, inhumane or degrading treatment or punishment;
 - (b) Ensure that accused minors shall be segregated from convicted persons and shall be subject to separate treatment appropriate to their status;
 - (c) Build rehabilitation facilities for accused and imprisoned youth who are still minors and house them separately from adults;
 - (d) Provide induction programmes for imprisoned youth that are based on reformation, social rehabilitation and re-integration into family life;
 - (e) Make provisions for the continued education and skills development of imprisoned young people as part of the restorative justice process.
 - (f) Ensure that accused and convicted young people are entitled to a lawyer.

Article 19: Sustainable development and protection of the environment

1. States parties shall ensure the use of sustainable methods to improve the lives of young people such that measures instituted do not jeopardise opportunities for future generations.
2. States parties shall recognise the vested interest of young people in protecting the natural environment as the inheritors of the environment. In this regard, they shall:
 - (a) Encourage the media, youth organisations, in partnership with national and international organisations, to produce, exchange and disseminate information on environmental preservation and best practices to protect the environment;
 - (b) Train youth in the use of technologies that protect and conserve the environment;
 - (c) Support youth organisations in instituting programmes that encourage environmental preservation such as waste reduction, recycling and tree planting programmes;
 - (d) Facilitate youth participation in the design, implementation and evaluation of environmental policies including the conservation of African natural resources at local, national, regional and international levels;
 - (e) Develop realistic and flexible strategies for the regeneration of forests;
 - (f) Initiate intensive actions to prevent the expansion of deserts.

Article 20: Youth and culture

1. States parties shall take the following steps to promote and protect the morals and traditional values recognised by the community:
 - (a) Eliminate all traditional practices that undermine the physical integrity and dignity of women;
 - (b) Recognise and value beliefs and traditional practices that contribute to development;
 - (c) Establish institutions and programmes for the development, documentation, preservation and dissemination of culture;
 - (d) Work with educational institutions, youth organisations, the media and other partners to raise awareness of and teach and inform young people about African culture, values and indigenous knowledge;
 - (e) Harness the creativity of youth to promote local cultural values and traditions by representing them in a format acceptable to youth and in a language and in forms to which youth are able to relate;

(f) Introduce and intensify teaching in African languages in all forms of education as a means to accelerate economic, social, political and cultural development;

(g) Promote inter-cultural awareness by organising exchange programmes between young people and youth organisations within and across states parties.

2. States parties recognise that the shift towards a knowledge-based economy is dependent on information and communication technology which in turn has contributed towards a dynamic youth culture and global consciousness. In this regard, they shall:

(a) Promote widespread access to information and communication technology as a means for education, employment creation, interacting effectively with the world and building understanding, tolerance and appreciation of other youth cultures;

(b) Encourage the local production of and access to information and communication technology content;

(c) Engage young people and youth organisations to understand the nexus between contemporary youth culture and traditional African culture, and enable them to express this fusion through drama, art, writing, music and other cultural and artistic forms;

(d) Help young people to use positive elements of globalisation such as science and technology and information and communication technology to promote new cultural forms that link the past to the future.

Article 21: Youth in the diaspora

States parties shall recognise the right of young people to live anywhere in the world. In this regard, they shall:

(a) Promote the equivalence of degrees between African educational institutions to enable the youth to study and work in state parties;

(b) Promote the recruitment of African youth with specialised skills, in the spirit of African solutions for African problems, according to national policies and priorities;

(c) Facilitate youth organisations to liaise and collaborate with the African youth diaspora;

(d) Establish structures that encourage and assist the youth in the diaspora to return to and fully re-integrate into the social and economic life in Africa;

(e) Promote and protect the rights of young people living in the diaspora;

(f) Encourage young people in the diaspora to engage themselves in development activities in their country of origin.

Article 22: Leisure, recreation, sportive and cultural activities

1. Young people shall have the right to rest and leisure and to engage in play and recreational activities that are part of a health lifestyle as well as to participate freely in sport, physical education drama, the arts, music and other forms of cultural life. In this regard, states parties shall:

(a) Make provision for equal access for young men and young women to sport, physical education, cultural, artistic, recreational and leisure activities;

(b) Put in place adequate infrastructure and services in rural and urban areas for youth to participate in sport, physical education, cultural, artistic, recreational and leisure activities.

Article 23: Girls and young women

1. States parties acknowledge the need to eliminate discrimination against girls and young women according to obligations stipulated in various international, regional and national human rights conventions and instruments designed to protect and promote women's rights. In this regard, they shall:

- (a) Introduce legislative measures that eliminate all forms of discrimination against girls and young women and ensure their human rights and fundamental freedoms;
- (b) Ensure that girls and young women are able to participate actively, equally and effectively with boys at all levels of social, educational, economic, political, cultural, civic life and leadership as well as scientific endeavours;
- (c) Institute programmes to make girls and young women aware of their rights and of opportunities to participate as equal members of society;
- (d) Guarantee universal and equal access to and completion of a minimum of nine years of formal education;
- (e) Guarantee equal access to and completion of vocational, secondary and higher education in order to effectively address the existing imbalance between young men and women in certain professions;
- (f) Ensure that education material and teaching practices are gender sensitive and encourage girls and young women to undertake studies in the sciences;
- (g) Provide educational systems that do not impede girls and young women, including married and/or pregnant young women, from attending;
- (h) Take steps to provide equal access to health care services and nutrition for girls and young women;
- (i) Protect girls and young women from economic exploitation and from performing work that is hazardous, takes them away from education or that is harmful to their mental or physical health;
- (j) Offer equal access to young women to employment and promote their participation in all sectors of employment;
- (k) Introduce special legislation and programmes of action that make available opportunities to girls and young women including access to education as a prerequisite and a priority for rapid social and economic development;
- (l) Enact and enforce legislation that protect girls and young women from all forms of violence, genital mutilation, incest, rape, sexual abuse, sexual exploitation, trafficking, prostitution and pornography;
- (m) Develop programmes of action that provide legal, physical and psychological support to girls and young women who have been subjected to violence and abuse such that they can fully re-integrate into social and economic life;
- (n) Secure the right for young women to maternity leave.

Article 24: Mentally and physically challenged youth

1. States parties recognise the right of mentally and physically challenged youth to special care and shall ensure that they have equal and effective access to education, training, health care services, employment, sport, physical education and cultural and recreational activities.
2. State parties shall work towards eliminating any obstacles that may have negative implications for the full integration of mentally and physically challenged youth into society including the provision of appropriate infrastructure and services to facilitate easy mobility.

Article 25: Elimination of harmful social and cultural practices

State parties shall take all appropriate steps to eliminate harmful social and cultural practices that affect the welfare and dignity of youth, in particular;

- (a) Customs and practices that harm the health, life or dignity of the youth;

(b) Customs and practices discriminatory to youth on the basis of gender, age or other status.

Article 26: Responsibilities of youth

Every young person shall have responsibilities towards his family and society, the state, and the international community. Youth shall have the duty to:

- (a) Become the custodians of their own development;
- (b) Protect and work for family life and cohesion;
- (c) Have full respect for parents and elders and assist them anytime in cases of need in the context of positive African values;
- (d) Partake fully in citizenship duties including voting, decision making and governance;
- (e) Engage in peer-to-peer education to promote youth development in areas such as literacy, use of information and communication technology, HIV/AIDS prevention, violence prevention and peace building;
- (f) Contribute to the promotion of the economic development of states parties and Africa by placing their physical and intellectual abilities at its service;
- (g) Espouse an honest work ethic and reject and expose corruption;
- (h) Work towards a society free from substance abuse, violence, coercion, crime, degradation, exploitation and intimidation;
- (i) Promote tolerance, understanding, dialogue, consultation and respect for others regardless of age, race, ethnicity, colour, gender, ability, religion, status or political affiliation;
- (j) Defend democracy, the rule of law and all human rights and fundamental freedoms;
- (k) Encourage a culture of voluntarism and human rights protection as well as participation in civil society activities;
- (l) Promote patriotism towards and unity and cohesion of Africa;
- (m) Promote, preserve and respect African traditions and cultural heritage and pass on this legacy to future generations;
- (n) Become the vanguard of re-presenting cultural heritage in languages and in forms to which youth are able to relate;
- (o) Protect the environment and conserve nature.

Article 27: Popularisation of the Charter

States parties shall have the duty to promote and ensure through teaching, education and publication, the respect of rights, responsibilities and freedoms contained in the present Charter and to see to it that these freedoms, rights and responsibilities as well as corresponding obligations and duties are understood.

Article 28: Duties of the African Union Commission

The African Union Commission shall ensure that states parties respect the commitments made and fulfil the duties outlined in the present Charter by:

- (a) Collaborating with governmental, non-governmental institutions and developmental partners to identify best practices on youth policy formulation and implementation and encouraging the adaptation of principles and experiences among states parties;
- (b) Inviting states parties to include youth representatives as part of their delegations to the ordinary sessions of the African Union and other relevant meetings of the policy organs to broaden the channels of communication and enhance the discussion of youth-related issues;
- (c) Instituting measures to create awareness of its activities and make information on its activities more readily available and accessible to youth;

(d) Facilitating exchange and co-operation between youth organisations across national borders in order to develop regional youth solidarity, political consciousness and democratic participation in collaboration with development partners.

PART 2: FINAL PROVISIONS

Article 29: Savings clause

Nothing in this Charter shall be taken as minimising higher standards and values contained in other relevant human rights instruments ratified by states concerned or national law or policies.

Article 30: Signature, ratification or adherence

1. The present Charter shall be open to signature by all the member states. The present Charter shall be subject to ratification or accession by member states. The instrument of ratification or accession to the present Charter shall be deposited with the Chairperson of the Commission.

2. The present Charter shall come into force thirty (30) days after the deposit with the Chairperson of the Commission of the instruments of ratification of fifteen (15) member states.

Article 31: Amendment and revision of the Charter

1. The present Charter may be amended or revised if any member state makes a written request to that effect to the Chairperson of the Commission, provided that the proposed amendment is not submitted to the Assembly of the Union for consideration until all member states have been duly notified of it.

2. An amendment shall be approved by a simple majority of the member states. Such amendment shall come into force for each member states that has ratified or acceded to it on the date of the deposit of its instrument of ratification.
